STOCKS STRONG AND ACTIVE. In face of hes, oy sales by the leading cliques the stock market was sarong, and prices underwent a further considerable improvement. Thus in the case of the Union Pacific, which the Vanderblit party would a few weeks ago have been glad to get rid of at cost price, there was an advance to 41%. The stock is just now "the rage" in Amsterdam, where it has been skilfully manipulated by the eminent banker, the Mynheer Von Koopmanuschoopf, doubtiess on account of the prospec-tive faculous wealth of its land grants. The rise in New York Central and Lake Shore over the holi-day frightened the "shorts" so badiy this morning that Central leaped to 101% and Lake Shore to 98% almost as soon as the market opened. The London "street" price of Eric coming as high as 52% equivalent to about 64 here, the stock advanced from 61 to 63, but settled to 62 a 62%, the discrepancy as compared with London being due to the fact that no regular dealings being conducted in Londen it would not have been worth the trouble of trying to sell to the "street" market, which would nardly have stood any large offerings of stock. Northwest advanced to 84. Wabash to 80 and C. C. and L. C. to 26%. The stringency in money at one o'clock produced a flurry and a decune in prices, but after the bank statement the market recovered, and in several instances advanced to the highest point of the season. Harlem sold at 115, In the Southern list South Carolina July bonds were strong at 38% a 39.

THE SUICIDE OF MR. CONRAD.

A Determined Affair.

Coroner Young yesterday afternoon made a par-tial investigation of the circumstances attending the suicide of Mr. James R. Conrad, late of 270 Division street, as previously reported in the Herald, It appeared that Mr. Conrad had been blind for the last nine years and that his blindness was the result of intense neuralgic and rheumatic pains. He had long been in the habit, by medical advice, of using laudanum both externally and internally, and at intervals his suffering was so great as to make Mr. Conrad almost tired of hite. He had been heard to threaten self-destruction, but his friends kept close watch in order that he should not carry the threat into execution. On Thursday has, however, Mr. Conrad procured an ounce and a quarier of laudanum, under the pretence of using it as in the nast, but waiting his opportunity swallowed the whole of it. He then refused most persistently to take any antidote, and being removed to the nospital, died late on Friday alternoon.

Mr. Conrad was fitty-six years of age and a native of this car. the suicide of Mr. James R. Conrad, late of 270 Di-

HOREIBLE ACCIDENT AT PORTLAND.

PORTLAND, Me., March 30, 1872. Thomas G. Kolfield was killed this afternoon by the falling of a boiler from a car on Uplon wharf. He was assisting to unload the car. His head was completely crushed. AN INDICTMENT CANARD.

The United States Grand Jury and Alleged Indiotment of Ex-United States District Attorney Courtney and Ex-Marshal Murray-Interesting Proceedings in Court and Explanation.

A rumor got abroad yesterday morning to the effect that ex-United States District Attorney Samuel G. Courtney and ex-United States Marshal Murray had been or would be indicted by the United States Circuit Court Grand Jury for the Southern District for alleged official corruption. This announcement, which now turns out to be a wanton canard, had the effect of bringing to the court room yesterday a crowd of persons anxious to find out all about the affair, and what truth, if any, there was in the rumor. Mr. Courtney, with a number of his friends, was on hand early, and Mr. murray also put in an appearance. It was known that room, and there present whatever indictments they had found. With this expectation the reporters were all on hand, and other parties of various call-ings had assembled in the room; but after a little gone into the District Court room, for which a stampede was made. On arriving there the Grand Jury were handing in, in the presence of Judge Blatchford, a large batch of indictments, about fitteen in number. None of the names of the indicted parties were announced. After the parties are arrested ball is to be taken in the office of Mr. Kenneth G. White, Clerk of the Circuit Court. ME. COURTNEY DEMANDS TO KNOW IF HE IS IN-

Mr. Courtney, one of the parties supposed to have been indicted, addressed Judge Bialchford, and said:—"I see by one of this morning's papers that somebody has been enleavoring to have me in-dicted for some offence—I know not what—and that an indictment has been or would be found against me. I desire to know from the District Attorney, in the presence of the Court, whether any indictment has been found against me.

Judge Biatchiori—That is a matter that I have nothing to do with. The District Attorney must transact his own business in his own way. You can obtain information from him.

Mr. Courtney—After this statement in the paper referred to, and as I have been for several years an officer of this Court, I know of no place more proper to obtain the information I have asked, and, as the District Attorney is here present, I repeat the question I asked a few moments ago, and

DEMAND AN ANSWER.

If any charges are made against me I am ready and prepared to meet them, whether they are the result of manice or perpay.

The District Attorney—The Grand Jury nave found or presented a no indictment against Mr. Courtney.

Mr. Robert Murray was subsequently informed.

If any charges are made against me I am ready and prepared to meet them, whether they are the result of manice or perspry.

The District Autorney—The Grand Jury nave found or presented and indictment against Mr. Courtney.

Mr. Robert Murray was subsequently informed, both through his counsel and personally, that no indictment had been found against him.

On this explanation being given the parties interested left the Court, and the regular business was then proceeded with.

An Explanation of the indictment Canard.

As far as can be ascertained it appears that there was an altempt to have the Grand Jury Indict Mr. Courtney, ex-District Autorney, as well as air. Murray, the ex-Marshal. The alleged charge against Mr. Courtney was that he had received a bribe of some six lhousand and odd dollars from somebody connected with the Kentucky Bourbon Company, for the purpose of naving premises under seizure released. The District Autorney's office knew nothing of the parties who presented this charge before the Grand Jury. The records in the office, with the instructions from the government at Washington to Mr. Courtney, show this.

The Kentucky Bourbon Company being under seizure an application was made by Mr. Frank, a chaimant of the property, to have it released on a payment of the sum of $10,000 and the payment of rent of the bonded warehouse for which the government was hable. This proposition was accepted by the secretary of the Treasury and Instructions were sent to Mr. Courtney by the Secretary, releasing and discharging the property on the receipt of the sum of $10,000 and the payment of the bonded warehouse for which the government was hable. This proposition was accepted by the Secretary et the Courtney to secure, it possible, a settlement of the amount of the bond, or, if to a settlement of the amount of the bond, or, if to a settlement of the amount of the bond and decided or receive the property at all unless the amount of the course and Mr. Courtney is set the grown of the government than the course of the Meeting of the Committee of the Common Council on Railroads-The Plans Presented. and What the Presenters Want. The Joint Committee of the Common Council on

Railroads met yesterday afternoon in the chamber of the Board of Assistant Aidermen for the purpose of listening to arguments and iningiplans for the sinking and arching of the Fourth avenue track above Forty-second street, A letter from the Corporation Counsel was read recommending the application for authority from the Legislature to act in the matter of the Fourth Ave-

Assistant Alderman Pinogney said that the Board had met for the purpose of hearing both sides of Railroad corporation and the citizens of the Nineteenth ward, He said, further, that but one side of the question had been fully explained, and that he hoped if the representatives of the railroad were present they would come forward and explain the position they took in this matter, and that any plans for the sinking and come forward and explain the position they took in this matter, and that any plans for the sinking and arching of Fourth avenue would be forthwith presented to the Board.

Mr. Prage, in behalf of the Nineteenth Ward Railroad Reform Association, submitted plans for the sinking and arching of Fourth avenue from Forty-second street to Ninety-fourth street at the cost of 4,000,000, to have the road provided with four tracks in explanation he said that his plans those of the Nineteeth Ward Railroad Reform Association, alfered from those submitted by the railroad company in this feature, that while they (the Railroad Reform) wished to have the digression in the road begin under the Graad Central depot, the railroad folks wanted the depot and its surroundings left as they are, and to have the differsion begin at Porty-eight street. The Nineteenth ward loaks want to have the cut arched over and compel the railroad company to use smoke-consuming engines in conveying the cars, both passenger and freight, through the tunnet.

The representative of the railroad company said that compelling them to use smoke-consuming engines was one of the most odious requirements forced upon them, maximuch as they would be necessitated in case they used smoke-consuming engines to change locomouves at the Harlein River, thus delaying outbound trains from seven to ten minutes. Mr. Prage's plan was for sinking the track eight feet under the roof of the Grand Central depot, and by the time they would arrive at Forty-eighth or Forty-mint street have a depression of eleven feet, and fifteen feet at Fifty-second street, His plan made no provision for the tracks beyond the Ninety-second street tunnel.

Arr. J. V. Henry Norr also presented a model of the island were shown. Mr. Nott's and arch the streets. An inclined plane is to run from the top of the arch down ean street to about the middle of the block, thus enabling cares and carriages to run across the town at ive o'clock. The Board adjourned to meet on Monday next, when more plans will be ex
